CATARRH

is a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of colds and sudden climatic changes. It can be cured by a pleasant remedy which is applied directly into the nostrils. It is quickly absorbed it gives relief at once.

It is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in Head and Hay Fever of all remedies. It cures and cures the salivary glands, always inflamed and inflamed, breaks the force, protects the membrane from cold, restores the power of secretion, and, in fact, it is the most perfect remedy for Catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs.

"This new light they have discovered that enables one to take a photograph of a man's bones without skinning him will be a terrible factor in the wars of the future," said the philosopher.

"Take a bearer of a message, for instance; he is captured, and, after the old fashioned methods, swallows the paper; out comes the photograph, takes his internal picture, reproduces the swallowed message, and there's all the poor messenger's devotion gone for nothing."—London Tit-Bits.

The bishop of Meath takes precedence of all Irish bishops, and is followed by other bishops according to the seniority of their consecration.

There is a certain farmer so suspicious that before trying a sheep he examines it closely to make sure that he has no cotton in him.

The South African Labor Market.

I believe, as with fighting peoples of India, so with the Zulu and the Matabele, military service will eventually prove an excellent means of eliciting the loyalty and utilizing the pugnacity of the nation. All over South Africa the great social and economical difficulty of the day is the state of the labor market. Insufficient, according to our standard, though Kaffir labor may be for the purposes of mining as well as farming, it is absolutely indispensable. White men may be overersers and managers, but the pick and shovel work is, and must be for some time, in the hands of natives. Whatever may be the case in America, it is certain that in South Africa black and white would not come together in a single shift or a single gang on the same level. Whether in the future employers will not be forced to import hands, not exactly of the class called "mean white," but from the same countries as now supply the American mines with labor, remains to be seen.

The scarcity of Kaffirs is a serious fact in the industrial world of Afrikanderdom. It does not spring, as I have stated, from any shrinkage of population, for, on the contrary, there is an increase, but it is to be accounted for by the ingrained distaste for manual exertion which makes the male Kaffir in his own kraal send his women to work in the fields while he sits in his glory at his hut's door. Everywhere they have made money and bought cattle, and, according to Kaffir custom, each son of the house has the right to put his spoon into the common bowl and the common stew, so that the young "bucks" are not forced to work from any fear of starving.—Fortnightly Review.

Paul Potter.

These boys who draw on slates and whose time and thoughts are constantly running to pictures sometimes turn out to be great artists and leave splendid names behind them. In the great picture gallery at The Hague, which is at once the pride and joy of all true Dutchmen, hangs, among other masterpieces, the most famous animal picture in all the world. It is called "The Bull." It was painted by a very young man, whose name was Paul Potter, and who was only 22 when he signed this canvas. There are few paintings better known, and it is acknowledged by art critics to be the most complete work that any cattle painter has ever done.

Through this Dutchman died at the age of 29, he left behind him 140 pictures that were all out of the ordinary, while some of them were painted before he was 10. He made, when he was 18, a wonderful etching that attracted attention in the old town of Delft, and an artist in those days had to do excellent work to secure notice at all. Potter's works are greatly prized and are found in the principal galleries of the world. You may see them in the National gallery in London; the Berlin, Dresden and Vienna museums; the Hermitage in St. Petersburg, the Louvre in Paris, and all the art institutions of the artist's native land.—Arthur Hoebel in St. Nicholas.

Lucy.

They tell a story of a man of luxurious habits who volunteered as a private soldier in a cavalry regiment during the late war. By what is popularly known as the "irony of fate," he had to perform his services in the roughest possible places and in the roughest possible way.

Sometimes "luck" was so contrary that the only meal he had was a few grains of corn that he stole from the ears provided for his horse.

One of his companions, who was talking about this, was asked if these hardships and privations cured the volunteer of his luxurious habits. He answered that they did not; that when they were fortunate enough to find a few planks to lie down on at night, the luxury lover searched among them to see whether he could not get one of soft wood.—Philadelphia Times.

Kant's Windlasses.

Kant, the German metaphysician, was a singular being. The English writer Thomas De Quincey made close observation of Kant's personal peculiarities, and frequently dwelt upon one of them with intense amusement.

Kant, among other studies in the art of taking care of himself, avoided ordinary garters. He permitted no ligature to be placed on any part of his body, fearing to hinder in the slightest degree the circulation of the blood.

He found it necessary at the same time to keep up his stockings. Accordingly he had loops attached to them, and outside each hip he wore a contrivance which may be called a box windlass. These affairs somewhat resembled an angler's reel, with a spring which scoured the line at any given point.

Behold Kant then expounding his philosophy to a select circle of disciples. Like the famous counsel who could not state his arguments without twisting a bit of twine, Kant worked the windlasses as he talked.

The idea of this grotesque fancy so tickled De Quincey that he often lingered on the odd sight it must have been to observe the master "paying out the cable" or hauling in "the slack" by aid of this curious machinery.—Youth's Companion.

Sebastian Cabot.

Sebastian Cabot retired from public affairs in 1567, and died shortly after, leaving a high reputation as a scientist and practical mariner, many of which the author of this book considers—and it must be admitted, has cogently proved—to be undeserved. Our own verdict would be that he was guilty of much falsehood and intrigue, that he was not as expert a seaman as he claimed to be, and that in the leadership of men he exhibited neither justice, mercy nor even ordinary discretion. But let us temper justice with mercy, and in judging of the worthies of past ages bring to light some extenuating circumstances.

He was of the Italian race, a people who for at least a century had no more a manly character, for slyness and underhand proceedings; he lived in an age when mercenary service was in vogue, and strict fidelity to engagements was not to be expected; the languages of all the Latin races are prone to vagueness and exaggeration, and thus often deviated, and even unintentionally, from veracity; and he had to deal with Spaniards, who deemed his foreign birth a sufficient reason for disobeying his orders. Perhaps his character may be justly comprehended if we apply to him the common adage: "Don't expect to find a

WHAT SIXTEEN TO ONE MEANS.

Everybody in the State of Nevada ought to know the meaning of 16 to 1, and doubtless a large majority of them do. However, the Silver Knight not only explains the meaning of the ratio of 16 to 1, but it also explains why that ratio should not be changed. Sixteen to one means that there is sixteen times as much weight of silver in a silver dollar as there is gold in a gold dollar, or sixteen pounds, troy weight, of silver is equal to one pound, troy, of gold, for the purpose of coinage. This is according to Benton's law of 1837 which Jackson signed.

There are many reasons, says the Knight, for adhering to this ratio. There is in the world about 15 1/2 to 16 times as much weight of silver as there is of gold. This is the result of mining in all the ages, and it seems to be a natural ratio. But this is the most important consideration in the United States. By the act of June 14, 1870, under which the bonded debt of the United States was funded, that debt was made payable in coin of the then standard value which consisted of gold dollars containing 258 10 grains of standard gold or silver dollars containing 412 1/2 grains of standard silver, and this contract is printed on every bond issued by the United States. If any variation was made in the ratio the bondholders would complain of a breach of contract, whatever they may say now, and in the resumption of specie payments the law authorized the redemption of greenbacks in coin and also authorized the use of the revenue of the Government for that purpose, and in the case the revenue was insufficient it authorized the sale of United States bonds which were payable in either standard silver or standard gold dollars. It will be seen that a change of the ratio would be taken advantage of by our goldbug friends to raise the cry of repudiation. We do not want to discuss that question. We are satisfied with the standard ratio established by Jackson, and according to which our contracts are already made.

IMMIGRATION STATISTICS.

The Commissioner of Immigration has prepared a statement which shows that the number of immigrants who arrived in this country during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1896, was 395,000, as compared with 255,536 during the previous year. Of the whole number 205,000 were males and 190,000 females. The countries from which the immigrants came and the number arriving from each country are given as follows:

Austro-Hungary, 65,183; Italy, 69,080; Russia, 52,818; Germany, 81,985; the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, 64,387; all other countries, 61,446.

The whole number debarred from landing and returned during the year was 3,037, of whom 2,010 were paupers; 775 contract laborers; 1 idiotic; 1 insane. There were 238 returned during the year because of their having become public charges.

There are United States statutes prohibiting the landing of paupers, criminals and persons afflicted with loathsome diseases, as well as those under contract to work in the United States. The contract labor act has been repeatedly violated. According to newspapers and other reports the coal and iron barons, who have been loud in their demands for protection, have been violating the law by importing the cheapest labor they could find in Europe to work their coal and iron mines. If the object of a protective tariff is to protect American labor from the pauper labor of foreign countries an effective way of accomplishing that purpose would be to exclude the paupers. It has been repeatedly stated that the only difference between the price of labor in this country and in foreign countries is the cost of transportation from the foreign country to the United States. Canadian products imported into the United States must pay duty, but it is said that thousands of Canadians at Niagara Falls and other places along the Canadian line work on the American side and reside on the Canadian side. If such is the case it is difficult to understand how a tariff on Canadian products benefits the American workingman.

ENTHUSIASTIC BRYAN MEN.

The delegates from New York at the Chicago convention were instructed to vote as a unit, the majority to determine how the vote should be cast. The majority were millionaires and emphatically for gold and as the goldites decided to take no part in the nominations New York did not vote. Several of the delegates who represented agricultural constituencies were for silver, but they were muzzled by the unit rule. Now since their return home they are expressing their opinions and they are for silver. One of them, James A. Hanlon, the leader of the Orleans county Democracy, is an enthusiastic Bryan man. He says the farmers of New York State are tired of 22-cent corn and 50-cent wheat and their vote will surprise the gold men. He is in close touch with the farmers and he knows what he is talking about. Delegate Hanlon refrained from voting in the convention because that was the decision of the majority, but he believes New York ought to have taken an active part. He believes Bryan to be a broad-gauge, patriotic man and he will support him and advocate his election. He does not think there will be an independent Democratic ticket and he believes that Bryan will get more Republican votes than McKinley will get Democratic votes in the State of New York.

THE POPULISTS AND BRYAN.

A Bolt Thrown at Him is Endorsed.

St. Louis, July 18.—Governor Stone arrived this morning in response to a message from those Populists who desire to endorse Bryan. The Governor is working among the "middle of the road," contingent in Bryan's interest. Chairman Tanbueck has returned from Chicago, where his effort to keep the Illinois delegation solid against Bryan was said to be a failure.

To have his own delegation go against him would be very distasteful. At the Bryan headquarters there was much enthusiasm at the growing feeling in favor of endorsing Bryan and Sewall.

The leaders of the Silver party, which is to meet Wednesday, have formulated a demonstration which will be presented as an ultimatum to the Democratic Congressional Committee.

The Silver party will insist that all "sound money" Democratic candidates for Congress be withdrawn and if they will not withdraw, the Silverites and Populists will unite in putting up in every Congressional district a free silver candidate. The Populists are to concentrate their work and attempt to elect a Congress which will favor free silver. To accomplish this the co-operation of the Democrats is necessary.

The Populists opposed to Bryan say that if he is endorsed, the delegates from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and possibly Tennessee will bolt.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Some Progress Made but Nothing Decisive Accomplished.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The correspondence between Governments of the United States and Great Britain relating to a general system of arbitration for the settlement of disputes between those nations, including the Venezuelan boundary, has been made public. It comprises letters exchanged between Secretary Olney, Lord Salisbury, Sir Julian Pauncefote and Ambassador Bayard.

Notable features of the correspondence are the facts that whereas Bayard by instruction of Secretary Olney negotiated at Washington respecting the Venezuelan dispute, Lord Salisbury broadened it into a general arbitration scheme, following the lead set by the late Secretary Gresham in the Spring of 1895 that Secretary Olney later insisted upon a disassociation of the two subjects, evidently fearing entangling alliance. Otherwise that as to a general arbitration, the issues which still prevent agreement are the indisposition of the British Government to include territorial disputes, save with the addition of provisions that in the estimation of Secretary Olney will render the attempt at arbitration nugatory because there are no means of making the findings of the arbitrators binding upon the parties or of removing therefrom the possibility of infinite appeals.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The First National Bank of Miesot, North Dakota, capital $50,000, has suspended.

It is thought that the ship Philadelphia, 105 days out from New York for San Francisco, has been wrecked off Cape Horn.

The Cuban insurgents are active. Fighting is reported in several places and an expedition has landed in the district of San Diego.

Judge Wofford of the Criminal Court of Kansas City, has decided that betting on horse races run outside of the State can be resumed at Kansas City.

Five Japanese have arrived at Chicago on their way to London to collect the Chinese war indemnity of over $150,000,000. The money is to be delivered in gold in London.

The bodies of Joseph Hopper and wife of London, Kentucky, were found on the Southern railroad track ten miles from Lawrenceburg, beheaded. It is supposed that they laid down with their heads on the rail.

Charley King, a Chinaman, was washing windows in San Francisco when a party of hoodlums happened along and threw him off the ladder, fracturing his skull. The hoodlums have not been arrested.

Malvern, Arkansas, a town of 6,000 inhabitants, was burned yesterday. The burned buildings include the railroad depot, two hotels and a bank. The loss is estimated at $400,000. Six negroes were arrested, charged with setting fire to the town, and it is thought they were lynched.

The Cleveland Guards, the crack military company of Cleveland, Ohio, were ordered to Brown's Hoisting Works yesterday. The non-union men were escorted out of the works without serious trouble, the strikers being aided by the six military companies and police.

Robert Laughlin, a farmer, was sentenced to death at Brookville, Kentucky, yesterday. His niece lived with him and cared for his invalid wife. Last February he went home drunk and attempted to outrage the girl. His invalid wife went to the rescue and he killed both the wife and niece.

A committee of the Grand Jury called upon the Board of Supervisors, San Francisco, and asked that the assessments of street railroads, water, gas, light and telephone companies be increased, as all were under-valued. All these corporations had been asking the board to reduce the value of their property.

A man who gave the name of Gray went to the jewelry store of E. Maybom at Chico, California, and presented an order purporting to be from F. M. Guynn, a prominent farmer, for a watch. Gray then went to a hardware store and presented an order from Guynn for a bicycle. He took the wheel and watch and left town. Guynn was presented with the orders and pronounced both forgeries. The officers are scouring the country for the swindler.

The leaders of the Silver party at St. Louis formulated a fusion plan which meets the approval of many Populists. They will insist on the withdrawal of all "gold standard" Democrats who have been nominated, and if they do not withdraw, the Silver men and Populists will put free silver candidates in the field. The Populists are to unite with the Silver men to elect Congressmen favorable to silver, and to accomplish that, it is necessary to have the co-operation of the Democrats in nearly every district.

The timber wealth of the United States gives a yearly product of over a billion dollars, or twice the value of the entire output of all the mines put together—gold, silver, coal, iron, copper, zinc and the rest. This is a resource worth keeping, and yet we are cutting into our capital at the fearful rate of 75 per cent each year, as only about 25 per cent of the timber market is represented by new growth. As for lessers from the fires that are started by locomotives, campfires, heavy plows, blazes and incinerators, it gives a sufficient idea of what they cost us, to be right in the forestry commissioner of Pennsylvania that his state alone probably suffers to the extent of $30,000,000 annually from this one cause. Not only the trees are lost in these mighty conflagrations, the vegetable mold which would supply fertility to the soil for future agricultural purposes, or food for the roots of a second growth of forest, is lost, and the land stays in the office of the farmer to a landslide or flood.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a congested condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

DO TELL

The "Gazette's" Argument too Thin to

The unsophisticated Gazette, which couldn't tell the difference between a private palace car owned by millionaires and a car chartered for a trip by delegates, now asks:

"Did it ever occur to the people that the reason why the Southern Pacific Company favor silver is to enable them to settle the claim the Government of the United States hold against them to better advantage. They could buy enough bullion to pay the debt for half what they owe, take it to the mint and get it coined, pay the debt and pocket many millions of dollars on the transaction."

Did it ever occur to the Gazette that a private citizen could take silver bullion to the mint and have it coined upon the same terms as the railroad company. That being the case, who would sell the railroad company silver at half price? Did the Gazette ever stop to think that the Funding bill, which has been reported to the Republican House, provides for extending the time of the payment of the railroad debt for fifty years?

At the Opera House.

A good audience greeted the Reno Dramatic Club last night in "The Midnight Charge." During the entire play the audience gave the closest attention to every feature and were splendidly entertained. Each character sustained his or her part admirably, and had we space to permit of it, individual notice would be given.

The Elite Glee Club maintained its reputation in the fine selections rendered, and the singing of little Leo Hickman, the beneficiary, was simply immense, receiving a perfect ovation.

Mrs. F. M. Lee sang beautifully and little Leo joined her in a duet, which was a pleasing feature.

Jim O'Neill's horseshoeing scene was idealistic in the extreme, from the fact that Henry Orr, the capitalist, and who makes Jim's shop his headquarters, was present on the stage and in his accustomed position while Jim is at work. Henry enjoyed the novelty as much as the audience and carried his part in good style. Altogether the performance was very creditable to the Dramatic Club, and the object was a worthy one, as it may be the means of restoring the sight of little Leo Hickman, which there is great danger of him losing.

The Dramatic Club will, during the fall and coming winter, present several fine plays.

A Robbery.

Night before last while Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Griffin were sitting out on the Palace Hotel veranda, some miscreant entered their rooms in the hotel and stole a watch belonging to Mrs. Griffin, also Mr. Griffin's watch, several dollars in money and passes over various routes on which Mr. Griffin had to travel in his business as an agent for W. F. & Co. The evening was very warm and before retiring Mr. and Mrs. Griffin went out on the veranda to enjoy the cool air and it is presumed the thief watched their movements and took advantage of their absence from their apartments. It is thought that the thief was some person who is well acquainted with the premises and knew something of the occupants of the rooms.

The officers have the matter in charge and are watching the movements of some suspected parties, and it is probable that the thief will be arrested.

District Court.

Austin Gray and Frank McIntyre, found guilty of burglary, were arraigned for sentence yesterday morning, but a stay of proceedings was granted until Wednesday, when sentence will be passed.

The demurrer to the indictment against Bottini and Capuro, for illegal voting, was argued and overruled and the case set for next Monday.

The case of O. Zichfield for bigamy was then called and the work of impugning a jury commenced. Eleven jurors were obtained when it became necessary to issue a special venire, returnable on Monday, and the court adjourned.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal biliousness. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

SUSANVILLE AROUSED.

Republicans, Populists and Democrats join a Bryan Club.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The organization of a Bryan and Sewall Club here in Susanville appears to take with the people. What at first appeared somewhat strange is the fact that about as many Republicans as Populists are joining with the Democracy on the silver issue, and signing the roll. Wonders cease, however, when the exigency of the times requires unity, and the cause, of necessity, demands recruits from all parties to resist further encroachments against our rights of existence. RECEPTION AT PALISADE.

The Silver Delegates Greeted With a Salute.

When the train on which the Nevada and California delegation to the National Silver Convention at St. Louis were passengers arrived at Palisade there was a huge bonfire blazing, and a man with a Winchester rifle fired a salute. Governor Sadler happened to be at Palisade at the time and he gathered boxes and barrels and piled them ready to set afire when the train came in sight. There was no artillery at the station, but a patriotic silver man fired a National salute with his Winchester, and all the residents turned out and cheered.

Bony-Sullivan.

Victor F. Bony and Maggie E. Sullivan, both of Reno, were joined in holy wedlock at the Catholic Church last evening by the Rev. Father Dermody. The wedding was a quiet one, only the most intimate friends of the couple being present. Miss Kate Shea acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Martin E. Gaiteola as best man. After the ceremony the wedding party adjourned to the Arcade, where a wedding supper was served by Mr. Lemery.

Mr. Bony is a prosperous business man of Reno, having leased the old Nadon wagon and blacksmithing stand and carrying on a successful business in that line. He is quite well known in Reno and the announcement of his marriage, while a surprise to his many friends, will bring him loads of good wishes.

The bride is a Virginia girl and is well known in that city, but has resided in Reno for two years past and has many friends here. Mr. Bony met her here and felt that she was all that was necessary to make him happy and the feeling seemed to be mutual. Mr. Bony found a treasure of a wife and Mrs. Bony found a husband who will be honest and true.

The JOURNAL extends congratulations and hopes their married life may be a long and happy one.

The Valdemar Society.

The Valdemar (Danish) Society installed officers last night for the ensuing term. Mr. H. Block was installed President, the reports of officers were filed and show that the society is prospering and in good financial circumstances. After the routine work was concluded the lady friends and relatives were admitted and the evening was pleasantly passed in general conversation, music and dancing, the whole concluding with a splendid banquet.

Mr. Block takes a lively interest in the society and no better choice for President could have been made. He is ever ready to assist a deserving countryman and takes a pleasure in doing good whenever he can, and his hand is always extended in any deserving cause. There is no doubt but what the Valdemar Society will prosper under his management.

Change of Firm.

Geo. Sauer, late of Washoe City and Fred Grob have succeeded to the booting business of J. A. Holcomb at the Truckee Market. The new firm will endeavor, as far as possible to sustain the good reputation so long held by this pioneer market, and will try to merit an increase of patronage by the choice meats and butchers' novelties they will have on sale. Mr. Grob was formerly connected with the market and is well acquainted with the needs of all patrons. The business will be under the personal supervision of the two proprietors and no pains will be spared to give the best of service in their line. jelt2f

BREVITIES.

J. B. Overton of Virginia was a visitor in Reno yesterday.

Mrs. M. Simmons of Carson is here on a visit to Mrs. A. D. Gould.

Sam Jones and H. M. Gorham were guests at the Riverside yesterday.

W. E. Lester came in from the east yesterday morning and spent the day here.

W. P. McLaughlin, left for San Francisco last night on a short visit to his family.

C. O. Wallace arrived on the west-bound yesterday morning and remained over, continuing west in the evening.

Miss Maggie Mayberry took the train last evening for Weaverville, Cal., where she will visit for a month or two.

John Sunderland's new sidewalk was uncovered yesterday and dedicated to the public. It is a substantial piece of work and a great improvement.

Remember that F. P. Dann, manager of the Riverside photograph gallery, has put in new apparatus and new appliances, and is prepared to do as fine work as can be done on the coast.

The Dayton Times says: "The delegate to either of the conventions to be held in St. Louis this week, who votes otherwise than to endorse or nominate Bryan and Sewall, is a traitor to his country."

It is expected that the Comstock Cycle Club will arrive in town about 10 o'clock to-day. They will be banqueting at the Hotel Reno by the Reno Wheelmen and the visitors will return to Virginia on the afternoon train.

Quite a number will take advantage of the $2.10 round trip rate from this point to Truckee to-day to witness the baseball game between the Reno and Truckee clubs. An opportunity will be offered to excursionists to visit Donner Lake.

Clem Lemery of the Arcade Restaurant will serve a fine French dinner to-day from 4 till 8 p. m. Spring chicken, ice cream and other delicacies will be served. A half bottle of wine or beer with every order. The family trade is especially solicited.

All the counties in the State have made their semi-annual settlement with the State except Lyon and Lincoln. There is a question regarding the percentage of the Treasurer's salary of Lyon county to be paid by the State and the county will not settle until the matter is adjusted.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succumbing to La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

HORSE MEAT DEFENDED.

An Authority Claims Prejudice Prohibits Its General Use.

Everybody is aware that the horse is the cleanest of all domestic animals. It will not eat anything but good, healthy food, nor drink any but pure water. A horse would rather starve than swallow the rotten stuff often given to pigs and cattle. It is nothing but prejudice that prevents us from eating horseflesh. A similar prejudice retarded the introduction of the potato 100 years ago. Today we could not get along without it. Yet the prejudice against potatoes can be explained. The people had been told that this American root caused fever and rendered the ground unfit for all other crops. The exception against horseflesh is not even founded upon any objection to its properties. It is solely due to the influence of the church. The clergy did everything possible to prevent the newly converted Saxons from returning to their heathenish practices and prohibited the use of horseflesh to stop the sacrifices to Odin and Thor. A long time passed before these sacrifices were altogether discontinued.

The nations of Europe have suffered enormous loss by this prohibition of horseflesh. Especially from the humanitarian point of view the results are most deplorable. Millions of people are forced to live on potatoes and similar food wanting in nutritive qualities, while millions of pounds of the very best meat are wasted. Horseflesh is the most nourishing of all meats, and its taste is hardly to be distinguished from that of beef. The flesh of a horse fed on oats has a smell similar to gooseflesh. The fat is preferable to lard. Above all, it should be remembered that no flesh is so healthy as that of the horse. Trichinosis and similar diseases are unknown in horses. Tuberculosis, very common in cattle, is very rare in horses.—Frankfurter Zeitung.

PRIVATE BRADLAUGH.

How He Rebuked an Officer For His Ungentlemanly Conduct.

One of Messrs. Cassell's publications says that the late Charles Bradlaugh, when in the British army, was orderly room clerk, and a newly arrived officer once entered the room where he was sitting at work and addressed to him some discourteous order. Private Bradlaugh took no notice. The order was repeated with an oath. Still no movement. Then it came again, with some foul words added. The young soldier rose, drew himself to his full height, and, walking up to the officer, bade him leave the room or he would throw him out. He went accordingly, but in a few moments the grumbling of muskets was heard outside, the door opened, and the colonel walked in, accompanied by the officer.

It was clear that the private soldier had committed an act for which he might be court-martialed, and as he said once, "I felt myself in a tight place." The officer made his accusation, and Private Bradlaugh was bidden to explain. He asked that the officer should state the exact words in which he had addressed him, and the other, who had, after all, a touch of honor in him, gave the offensive sentence word for word. Then Private Bradlaugh said, addressing the colonel, that the officer's manner was surely to be faulted in the whole matter, as he could not have used language so unbecoming to an officer and a gentleman. The colonel turned to the officer with the dry remark: "I think Private Bradlaugh is right. There must be some mistake," and he left the room.

The mercury stood at from 92 to 100 degrees in various parts of town yesterday and the day as a whole was one of the hottest of the season.

CLIMBING UP CHEOPS.

AN AMERICAN DESCRIBES A VISIT TO THE PYRAMIDS.

A Feet That Requires a Good Nerve and Cool Head—Three Natives Assist Each Climber—Graphic Description of a Monumental Ride on a Camel.

The Troy (N. Y.) Times prints a letter written at Cairo, Egypt, by Rev. Dr.
L. M. S. Haynes, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city, to H. D.
Sweet, a parishioner, in which he says:

"Our conductor called us to an early breakfast at 6.30. Our party of five were promptly on hand. Our carriage was an ordinary American hack. We soon reached the bridge over the Nile and entered the avenue of acacia trees skirting the elevated pike which the government has built clear to the pyramids, a distance of about eight miles.

The road was literally crowded with farmers' 'fellahs,' coming into market.
We passed hundreds of camels and donkeys loaded down with every conceivable thing, especially fresh white clover, great quantities of which are sold in the city. Each camel carries about 400 pounds. With all the animals there were men, women and children, most of them walking, but they will ride back.
The men and boys seemed to be having a good time; but, as usual, the women and girls looked sad and miserable. The donkeys were looking down to the ground,
but the camels looked up in the air,
as they always do. They are very high minded. Their backs are also high, as I can testify, for I had my first camel ride today. In about an hour we rode up to the very base of the great pile of stone and alighted from our carriage in the sand, with the sun three hours high and blazing hot. It was about 9 o'clock.
We were immediately surrounded by the usual crowd of clamorous Arabs, anxious to help us up the great climb.

But our conductor, Mr. Solomon, who had been with us up the Nile, cleared them all away, and we selected three men each, fine looking men in white.

"We went right away over a pile of sand along the base and stood upon the first tier of stone. Then I formally looked up for the first time. We had seen the three pyramids, so familiar in picture, for more than an hour, but they did not seem to be so very large, because there is nothing to compare them with. But it is three-fourths of a mile long and 450 feet to the top.

The stones are about six feet square, and project one beyond the other, just like going up many stairs. The place for your feet is about four feet, a very good standing if you reached the floor or were not going up 480 feet right up in the air nearly three times as high as our church steeple.

"We walked easily along one course of stone on the west side, which were worn smooth with passing feet, and came to the northwest corner, where the ascent is made. Two men took me by the hand, and one pushed behind, and I began going up stairs four feet at a step. After about 300 steps I concluded to stop. We must have been about 80 feet up at that corner. I was not dizzy nor very lame, but I felt very peculiar,
and I felt more peculiar every minute afterward until I got back on to solid and capacious footing. But up we went, hop, skip and jump, going all the time and going up the biggest course of nothing. The stones were smooth, irregular and sometimes broken, but never less than four feet. Heaven was above you and both sides of you, and everlasting smashes beneath you if you should fall. Just then one of the Arabs tumbled a little and gave me a shock like an electric battery.

"Now we come to the half way place where they have thrown off a few rocks,
and where you can brace yourself against the breast stones of Cheops and look off a little. We were 240 feet up in the desert air, standing or leaning on the ragged corner and trying to believe and say it was fun. But it was not.
There was too much risk and danger.
Some people have to be blindfolded to get them down, and many faint, and not long since an English soldier fell.
But on we go a little farther, and, thinking the matter all over, I called a halt and deliberately decided that was enough. The view was something grand,
I suppose, and if I could have done it climbing when I was 20 years old I might have seen the grandeur. Going down, as I was not dizzy, was easier.
But any step might have been my last,
and I did not enjoy it as much as I did my splendid reception, though that embarrassed me somewhat.

"Once at the bottom we mounted camels to go to the sphinx. A very large, white fello fell to my lot. He was flat on the ground as I mounted.
When he began to get up, I thought he was going all to pieces. He rose in sections, with four distinct motions, and as each section assumed the horizontal
I was jerked backward and forward.
Cut a foot log into four parts, joint them together, get astride and have that log begin to assume the shape of a saw-horse, with you on top, and you have the idea. However, I held on, and away we went. I estimated that from my chin to the end of the camel's nose was six feet at least. The motion, once up, was not very disagreeable.

"Would gentlemen like to trot?" inquired the driver. The gentleman said he would. He had come to Egypt to see everything. He might have said there is more to feel than to see. Anyway, we went for about 20 rods, when I called out, 'Oh, oh, oh!' and the creature fell into a walk.

"Soon we came to the great sphinx.
It is big, and no mistake—a huge wonder on a lion's body. It is about as large as our church. In front of it, partly buried in the sand, is a temple of granite and alabaster, whose intricacies were visited."

Earrings.
Earrings have always been among the most favorite ornaments of nearly all the nations of the world, certainly with those which are called civilized. Indeed among the Persians, Babylonians and Carthaginians they were worn by men as well as women. They were always worn by Greek women from Hera, in the "Iliad," down to the Venus de Medici, whose ears are pierced for the reception of earrings. Pliny tells us that there was no part of dress upon which greater expense was lavished among the Romans. Many Egyptian earrings of very beautiful design have been preserved, and these antique designs have been imitated in modern times. All jewelry, no doubt, of barbaric origin, and earrings among the rest, so why discard them on that ground? We preserve what we admire, even if it comes to us through this source. And if piercing the ears is barbarous what can we say of shaving, which is done simply for fashion, and causes much more uneasiness to the flesh than simply piercing the ears once and for all?

Few would venture to advocate the abolition of shaving. Why, then, protest against earrings on this ground? Care should, of course, be exercised that the ears are carefully pierced, and allowed to heal properly before ornamental earrings are worn, but when once this is done they cause no further trouble. They are now fashionable, and this with the large majority of people is enough to say for them, but some venture to think, as they are essentially a woman's ornament and add to the beauty of a face, that a truly womanly face, they should be preserved.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Puritanical Sunday.
From early childhood we were perplexed with doubts about the things which might or might not be lawfully done on a Sunday, and were humbled by rules of the "touch-not-taste-not-handle-not" order, at variance with healthy instincts, quite unconnected with any morality except that of implicit obedience, and not commanding rational assent.

When I speak of a Puritanical Sunday, I am not using the term as one of disparagement, but simply as presenting a historical fact. I recognize the Puritan creed as one that has influenced many powerful and noble minds and has contributed most valuable elements to our composite English character. Even the Puritan Sunday, mistaken though I think it, and of a strictness too narrow and exaggerated for ordinary human nature to bear, has so excellent a side to it, and has been so closely bound up with customs and habits of great social value, with definite times for general rest and definite times for general worship, that I always think and speak with great respect of its supporters. I only blame those of them—now I think few in number—who lead with epithets intended to excite odium, other men who are striving to make the use of Sunday more beneficial and more adapted to varieties of human character and conditions.—Westminster Review.

The Russian's Easy Existence.
Joined to exceedingly high living, late hours and all sorts of enchanting but enervating dissipation, the Russian system of easy existence absolutely refuses to admit of the necessity of bodily exercise. It is no exaggeration to say that the well to do Russian never, to use a homely but expressive phrase, walks a yard. His person, moreover, is never allowed to become enervated with furs, even in summer time, and as he beats his horse and restaurants to a positively propitious extent, the bad effects on his health of the combination of these evils may be easily imagined if less readily described. The common people, on the other hand, lead a comparatively healthy existence, because from sheer poverty, and not by any means from choice, they are forced to be abstemious. Though they heat their houses to as high a temperature as their social superiors, yet they are of necessity more in the open air than these last. Their staple food, moreover, the nutritious and easily digested black bread of the country, is an excellent means of preserving their health under the very severe social and sanitary conditions under which they live, and of building up, as it were, muscle and bone.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Russian Methods.
Georg Brandes, the Danish critic, relates an amusing incident of his recent travels through Russia. In his "Indtryk fra Polen" ("Impressions in Poland"), published at Copenhagen, he relates the German frontier, he relates, the first thing which attracted the attention of the Muscovite custom house officer was two numbers of the Paris Nouvelle Revue. "What is this?" asked the official in German. "A French monthly." "What are its contents?" "It is impossible to give them in a minute." "Very well, then, it will go to the censor general at Warsaw." "Is this review prohibited?" "Prohibited is everything that I do not understand," replied the Russian, and all Danish books of Herr Brandes, even his Chinese-French dictionary, were consequently confiscated.

Success.
"We are apt, many of us, to think," said Mr. Gratebar, "that we could do better if we had a better chance or could get started in some new field; but the fact is that the man who is likely to succeed at all is pretty sure to succeed wherever he may be. Success is a crop that depends for its return less upon the soil that is cultivated than upon the manner of cultivation."—New York Sun.

For your Protection.—Catarrh "Cures" or Tonics for Catarrh in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodine of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by sudden change to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and, if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrh will follow: severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breath, and sometimes an offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to allay inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 60 cents.
